Copenhagen, September 13, 2023 – 3Shape TRIOS 5 Wireless has received this year’s Cellerant Best of Class Technology Award for intraoral scanners.

The achievement marks the eleventh year in a row that the TRIOS line of intraoral scanners has received the coveted award. This distinction now makes 3Shape the company with the most Cellerant awards in dentistry history.

"The Cellerant panel comprises leaders in the field of dentistry, professionals who utilize these solutions daily and recognize their unparalleled value and performance. The panel’s expertise and experience are what make this honor so special for 3Shape. Having now won more awards than any other company in Cellerant prize history is a testament to our team’s reputation for hard work, innovation, and the exceptional quality of our products," says Jakob Just-Bomholt, 3Shape Chief Executive Officer.

Dr. Lou Shuman, Best of Class founder, and Cellerant CEO

"During our annual panel meetings to deliberate on nominees, it's customary for us to eliminate half of the previous year's winners within the initial ten minutes. It makes the remarkable feat of 3Shape TRIOS securing its eleventh consecutive win truly astounding. This accomplishment solidifies 3Shape's position as the most recognized brand in the field of digital dentistry by our panel of experts. We continue to be impressed by 3Shape's consistent commitment to innovation and the user-friendly nature of their solutions," remarks Dr. Lou Shuman, Founder of Best of Class and CEO of Cellerant.
